ELEVATE NAMED GREAT PLACE TO WORK BY INDEPENDENT ANALYSTS

Win underscores company-wide commitment to core cultural values

Fort Worth, Texas — July 13, 2016 — Elevate has been certified as a great workplace by the independent analysts at Great Place to Work®. Elevate earned this credential based on ratings provided by its employees in anonymous surveys. A summary of these ratings can be found at <http://reviews.greatplacetowork.com/elevate>.

“Our rapid growth and constant innovation are a result of the incredible team we have at Elevate,” said Ken Rees, CEO of Elevate. “Our core values of “Think Big, Raise the Bar, Do the Right Thing, and Win Together” have guided us since inception and keep all of us focused on building great products, a great company, and a great place to work. We are thrilled and honored to be certified as a Great Place to Work® especially because this accolade comes directly from our employees.”

"We applaud Elevate for seeking certification and releasing its employees' feedback," said Kim Peters, Vice President of Great Place to Work's Recognition Program. "These ratings measure its capacity to earn its own employees' trust and create a great workplace - critical metrics that anyone considering working for or doing business with Elevate should take into account as an indicator of high performance."

“At Elevate, we like to bring employees together in ways that engage and inspire creative thinking and encourage feedback. Whether it be special recognition for individual employees, monthly “Cookies with Ken” sessions where employees are able to have open dialogue with our CEO, employee focused community involvement and charitable giving initiatives, or our themed company-wide quarterly Town Halls, we are always looking for ways to strengthen our employees connection to each other, their leaders, and their roles,” said Deedra Bouline, Senior Director of Organizational Development at Elevate.

“According to our study, 91 percent of Elevate employees say it is a great workplace,” says Sarah Lewis-Kulin, Great Place to Work's Senior Editor.
